EUROPE.

DANGERS DAILY DEVELOPING.

England Energetic in Emergency--Russia Reasons ere Rushing, and Recruits--Turkey's Troops--Dissembling Diplomatists.

LONDON, May 3.—The Russians are violating the Boulair lines of demarcation.

The Thessaly revolution is subsiding. Crete continues war-like.

Mr. Cross, the home secretary, in speaking again at Preston, repeatedly and emphatically repudiated the idea that the government were bent on war, but he said that they were determined to be prepared for all possible circumstances.

A special to the Standard from Belgrade reports a fight between the Servians and Bashi Bazouks, near Pristina. Loss on both sides heavy.

An ultimatum to the Porte is not now imminent from Russia. The bear is looking before he climbs. The impression prevails at Berlin and Vienna that England's Pour Parlers are only intended to give Turkey and England time for concentration. The Turkish commanders of the Danube quadrilateral are defiant. Russia is evidently withdrawing her troops from abroad, and recruiting at home for a home struggle.

Yesterday the bank of England return was regarded as distinctly unfavorable. The proportion of the reserve and liabilities having descended to an extraordinarily low figure. The bank ought to, according to old rules, raise its rate of discount. The reasons for its not doing so are chiefly ascribed to the fact that the money withdrawn from it is wholly for internal requirements. This morning's Financier says: "Should there be an active foreign draw in of gold the bank's minimum rate of discount might be expected to leap to five per cent. in a week." It is now three per cent.

There is remarkable absence of news respecting the progress of negotiations between England and Russia, but the latest impressions are more hopeful.

The Central News says: The steamship, Cimbria, was chartered on the 24th of March last, by the Russian Admiralty, for a year, to serve exclusively as a transport. The amount paid was £14,800. The value of the vessel is secured to the owners by Messrs. Mendelsohn, of Berlin, bankers. Her principal work will be to supply provisions and munitions of war to the Russian fleet in the Pacific. Her present destination, after taking aboard the war material contracted for in America, is North Japan.

Though Russia is believed to have secured Austrian neutrality, her military situation in Turkey is now regarded as exceedingly critical. The attitude of the Turkish soldiery is reported to be more favorable than ever for alliance with the English troops. A month ago Russian influence seemed to be on the point of carrying everything before it, but now the Porte seems more intractable than ever, and the Turkish army is so strong that the threats of the Russians have little effect. The Turks have entrenched positions, and are scarcely inferior in number to what the Muscovites can mass, so that not only can there be no question of surprise, but even most serious attack might be resisted, sufficiently long at any rate, until help could come from elsewhere. It is not, therefore, considered likely that they will accede to the evacuation of Varna Shumla, and Batoum, even to get the Russians away from the neighborhood of Constantinople. General Todleben, therefore, will have to display considerable diplomatic talent in the attempt to overcome all the difficulties, while the conciliatory disposition in St. Petersburg must be strong not to be worn out by the temporizing policy which the Turks, feeling the strength of their position, will doubtless use with their well known consummate skill.

The first issue of preserved meat and biscuits to the troops at Woolwich, in the place of the ordinary rations, was made yesterday. This is done to accustom men to the fare which will, in case of war, become their daily food.

The Manchester Guardian says: "Of the seven battalions of the guards, three, namely: the first of the Grenadiers, the first of the Coldstream, and the first of the Scots, are recruited to their full strength. Their baggage and arm chests are all ready and packed for instant removal. The ranks of the other four battalions are being filled up to one thousand strong.

Cotton Brokers' Circular.

LIVERPOOL, May 3.—The Cotton Brokers' Association weekly circular says: "The demand for cotton was moderate, and the supply offering having increased. Quotations of most descriptions are slightly reduced. American was in moderate demand with a free supply; prices are 1-16d. lower. In Sea Island rather more business has been done generally at steady prices. Futures were very dull; all the week prices gradually declined, and closed at 1-16d. to 3-32d. below those of last Thursday.

Election of Directors.

LAWRENCE, KANSAS, May 3.—The annual meeting of the Stockholders of the Kansas and Pacific Railroad Company, was held yesterday. The following were elected Directors for the ensuing year: John D. Perry, Robert E. Carr, D. M. Edgerton, T. F. Oakes, Theo G. Meir, S. M. Edgel and D. Dwight Fredway, of St. Louis; Jay Gould, A. H. Holmes and Sidney Dillon, of New York; and Fred L. Ames, of Boston.

A Revolution in Mexico.

SAN ANTONIO, TEX., May 3.—An official telegram to General Ord says that a revolution has broken out in the States of Durango and Nuevo Leon. General Trevino has been ordered to quell it. The guards of Matamoras and Mier are said to be on the point of pronouncing against Diaz. There is great excitement on the lower Rio Grande.

General Escobedo is here.

Terrific Explosion--Many Lives Lost.

MINNEAPOLIS, May 3.—It was thought to have been an earthquake, but one of the great flouring mills exploded and 17 were killed. Loss of property a million and a half dollars. Cause, gas generated by the manufacture of patent flour.

MINNEAPOLIS, May 3—Midnight—The flouring mills, which were involved in the disaster here to-night, form a group which composes the heaviest concerns in the State. Chief among them were the two Washburn mills, the property of ex-Governor C. C. Washburn, of Wisconsin, of which the one in which the explosion occurred was the largest flouring mill in the country, and the largest but one in the world. It was built in 1870, included 14 run of stone, and was worth $200,000. It is now a sinking mass of ruins with its companions on the "Platform." The destruction, is complete so far as the limits above named and serious within much wider bounds. The flames are still raging in the ruins, but are under control, and no further extension is feared. At this writing it is hoped the dead will be confined to 14 in the Washburn mill.

ST. PAUL, May 3.—The shock of the explosion at Washburn Mill, Minneapolis, was plainly felt here, and the flames were seen, creating intense excitement throughout the city. Pieces of the charred roof, paper, timbers and cinders were picked up, having been hurled in the air by the explosion and wafted here, nine miles distant, by the wind.

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., May 3—The following is the list of mills destroyed, with the number of runs of stone in each: Washburn, 42 runs; Galaxy, 12 runs; Hennepin or Diamond, 6 runs; Humboldt, 6 runs; Pettil, Robinson & Co., 15 runs; Zenith, 6 runs. In addition to these mills, there were numerous other buildings destroyed by the fire, including a large elevator and planing mill.

The Attorney-General on Lotteries.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—The Attorney-General has prepared an opinion in the case submitted to him by the Post-Master-General, to prevent the Louisiana State Lottery from using the mails, and especially the postoffice at New Orleans in conducting its business. He answers the question as to the power of the Postmaster at New Orleans, "to withhold from the mails letters suspected to contain advertisements of lotteries," in the negative, for the following reasons: That under the revised statutes, except in the case of letters on which the postage has not been prepaid, there is no power conferred on the Postmaster to withhold letters from the mails. He further says: "If the Post-master-General is satisfied, by evidence, that any person is conducting any fraudulent lottery through the mails, he may instruct Postmasters at any post-office at which registered letters arrives, directed to any such person, to return the letters to the postoffice at which they were mailed. This section applies only to registered letters. The persons authorized by law to seize letters from the mail, are the Collector of the Port, United States Marshal and a special agent of the Postoffice Department, who may do so only upon such letters being libelled."

Forty-Fifth Congress.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—The Committee on Commerce have agreed on a bill to improve the navigation of the twelve-mile Bayou, and to drain the lakes between Shreveport, La., and Jefferson, Texas. The corporation shall organize within twelve months and complete the work within five years, and shall have a title to the lands reclaimed.

HOUSE.—Immediately after the assembling of the House this morning, the legislative appropriation bill was taken up for consideration in committee of the whole. The committee rose and reported the bill to the House. No action was taken.

The House is in session to-night.

The committee on Foreign Relations of the Senate report the bill to refund to Japan the surplus of the indemnity exacted from that goverment.

The General Conference.

ATLANTA, GA., May 3.—The morning session of the Methodist Episcopal General Conference was mainly taken up in the discussion of the eligibility of Logan Dameron, lay delegate from St. Louis. The matter is still pending.

The Bishop's Quadriennial address was read by Bishop Doggett.

A communication from the Northern Methodist church, relative to holding a grand Ecumenical Methodist Council was received and referred.

THE COMMUNE IN CINCINNATI.

The Military Preparing for an Outbreak.

(Special dispatch to the Washington Star)

CINCINNATI, May 1.—The Enquirer to-day publishes details of the movements and plans of an armed force of communists in this city. Cincinnati has of late become the headquarters of a so-called socialistic labor party, the Secretary of the national organization having come here some time since, and recently followed by the Treasurer, preparations are now making for the publication of a national organ. The party has 3,000 men enrolled in Cincinnati, and large numbers of them are already organized into military companies, which meet secretly. Arms are supplied to them as rapidly as possible. There is also said to be a large organization known as Knights of Labor also arming and drilling. Some of these have made attempts to get possession of State arms. The Knights of Labor say little of their object, but it is understood that it is the same as that avowed by all communists. The police are stiring in the matter, and are drilling with a Gatling gun, and making other preparations. The military are fully cognizant of the state of affairs, and are prepared for an outbreak, which they fully expect will come. The communists could muster, with the rabble which would join them, 5,000 men. It is not known if any time is fixed for an outbreak.

Variegated marble from East Tennessee is shipped to New York.

THE WORLEY MURDER.

Conclusion of the Testimony---Guilt of the Prisoners Irrevocably Fixed.

[Special correspondence of The News.]

GOLDSBORO, N. C., May 3d, 1878.

MOSES PEARSALL—Continued.

It was "morated" for the colored people to come there before the committee. Jerry said he knew nothing about it. I asked him had he told Laurina Atkinson that he was in a deep study, because he had heard that a man was going to kill old man Noah. And that he was going down to let the old man know it. That he expected to take his gun and shoot the man if he tried to kill Noah. He said that it was so, but that he did not know the man. We put Cox in custody of the Sheriff because we were satisfied he knew more than he would tell. He said he had a wise head, and would be a witness for himself. He said he was big at the head and swift of the foot. Jerry said he knew something but should not tell it till he got his breakfast. After he started for town he told General Atkinson. He afterwards told me. He said it was old man Noah, Bob Thompson and Harris Atkinson. Said he knew, because Noah told him so himself the night of the murder. Said he met him ¾ of a mile from his house. He said I know, because he told me about opposite to Mr. Murphey's black ground. He said old man Noah walked up to him and said I have killed that rascal. He said what rascal? Noah said that Jim Worley and his wife. Jerry said old man you ought not to have done it. I asked him why he did not come to me, he might have saved them. He said he was afraid of Harris Atkinson and his friends. I don't know where Harris was at this time.

CROSS-EXAMINED.

I heard Maria Atkinson say Bob was off on Tuesday, and he seemed to be worried and troubled. He told her Tuesday night if you are asked where I was Monday night, say I stayed at home all Monday night. She said Harris and Bob had been together about breakfast time.

Dr. George L. Kirby: The effect of potash or lye on human blood is that it does not remove the stain, but changes it to a dull yellow. It is more easily removed by soft water than by lye. Menstrous blood is deficient in fibrine, and it coagulates less readily than arterial blood. It is diluted with mucus secretion.

Murder blood will wash out as easily as any other. It is doubtful if one could well tell the difference between the two kinds of blood without a microscope.

Wm. Wilkerson: I live on Wm. Atkinson's land. I went to Worley's on Tuesday evening. Pearce, Atkinson and I stayed all night, there with the corpse. I saw a track as I went home on Wednesday, about one mile off. I tracked it along the side of the road. It went down in a corn field behind Worley's house. We found a heel track near the house. We found one in the hog lot. We judged it to be 25 or 30 steps from the house. It was going from the house. I measured the length and width of it. One of my shoes was the same size. I lost the measure. I think it was a new shoe because it cut and made a clear track, and there were no marks of nails about. A shoe was brought in and it fitted my measure, it was Jerry's shoe. The tracks did not go towards the turkey bait.

Cross examined: Many persons were round there. There were no signs of blood on the sheets when we laid them out. I took the sheets off of the bed myself.

FATAL FOOT PRINTS.

Moses Pearsall: Mariah Atkinson was before our Committee; she said the clothes were the same Noah pulled off at her house on Sunday. She said she had not seen the clothes all of the time. She told us she went off over to one of the neighbors houses. I showed Mr. Wilkerson one of Jerry's shoes. It was No. 8. It compared with the measure.

Cross examined. The clothes had not been removed so far as I know of. But she could not say positively whether they had or had not been done.

Haywood Atkinson: I bought the shoes for Jerry Cox. They were 8's. This was the Friday before the murder. I gave them to Jerry.

Sheriff Grantham: I have not heard all of any one conversation. I have heard some of his own statements, but they were not on oath.

He stated on the evening of the murder, that he met Noah Cherry at the corner of the Toler place.

Said Mrs. Worley came to the bars and shut up the dog.

THE MURDEROUS BLOW.

I said I know you are lying now, because he could not have got out next day. Then he said she drove the dog under the crib. He said that Noah struck him in front of the door. Same statement as Griswolds. He said Noah threw her down and raped her first. After Bob and Harris got through they let her up. She started to run out of the door and Noah struck her. She fell by the steps. He said Noah carried an axe, Bob carried an axe and a stick. He said the reason that they had to kill her she screamed and hollowed so much to keep her from going crazy.

Miss Sarah Massey: I know Harris Atkinson; he lives on my father's farm; I saw him on sun-set at his house; he had a turn of wood and threw some of it down; it was about sun-set; I know the Worley murder was on Monday.

Jacob Davis: I know Harris Atkinson; I told him when the murder; I know when the murder was committed. Harris was at my house that Monday; he stayed there all day; he helped me put up a horse stable; he left me about 1½ hours by the sun on Monday; he came back to my house after day light was down, again, to get me to go and see Perry Flowers about a steer he had to sell; I said I had my shoes off, go by yourself; he said I don't like to be fooling round a strange plantation; he said he would let it alone till to-morrow night; he stayed there about an hour; he said next morning he was going over the river; when he left my house it was two hours after sun-set; that was Monday, the 11th day of February.

CROSS-EXAMINED:

I married Harrison Atkinson's sister; I told the committee that I thought he stayed there about two hours; I told them he came a little after day-light down; I never told Wm. May soon after the murder, at or near the house, that he left my house before dark; I do not know whether I told him to come back or not. You told the Judge you had a good head, and could remember; what month was that? I can't remember; I don't know what month this is; I was first sworn at Johnson's school house.

Cherry Davis: Harris was at my house on Monday; he came between 9 and 10 o'clock at night; he said he was coming back; about day-light down he came back again; he wanted me to go to the house; Berry Flowers is a big man; he is a white man; he said he did not want to go by himself.

CROSS-EXAMINED:

I have known Harris a long time; I am his sister; I heard say it was the 11th of February; I have talked this matter once with my husband.

Wm. Richardson: Harris was at one of my houses on Tuesday night.

CROSS-EXAMINED:

There were a great many that crossed there; I never heard any complaint; they did not usually go 'round to get to Mr. Cox's.

Arthur Stevens: Harriss has a canoe at the bridge, but it is bottom side up.

CROSS-EXAMINED:

There is a direct footway to the bridge.

Captain Fulghum, of the NEWS, was then called to give in what he had learned at a previous interview: Jerry Cox was in jail; he told me he burned the axe and helve. He said there was blood on the helve also; he said there was only one axe there; I think he said Noah had the axe.

CROSS-EXAMINED:

He said the helve was too short and "obsolete" for his use; said he had killed two hogs the day after the murder.

Nathan Deans: I heard Worley was murdered on Monday night; Jerry Cox came to my house about 1 o'clock, and we went up to Harry Holt's and sharpened our axes. He went off towards home; the helve was not more than two feet long.

Alvin Stallings: I saw Noah about an hour in the night on Monday; I live about a mile from Melvin. He came to my house and sat down. I live two miles from Worley's. Noah said he came for some meal. I told him I had none. He asked me for a ear of corn to roast. I gave him one. He talked about staves and about women. Said there was no dependence to be put in them.

Cross-Examined: He stayed at my house 15 minutes. It was about an hour in the night. I have seen those clothes before. Noah had them on that night at least the pants. His coat was buttoned up. I did not see his shirt. I know by the patches on them. Both pairs of his pants are patched.

Isaac Atkinson: I live a mile from Melvin Atkinson. I saw Noah the night of the murder. I saw him at the branch ¾ or 1 hour in the night.

Cross-examined: I was with Melvin and Lewis Atkinson. He was coming from Mrs Murphy's I saw him at the branch. I had no watch. I was convicted of stealing 9 or 10 years ago. There was no one at Melvin's, but his folks. It took me ¾ of an hour to go three miles.

Lewis Richardson: I was with Isaac. I met Cherry 2½ hours from the sun-set 100 yards from Melvin's house. I am certain it was Noah.

Cross-Examined: Cherry was going towards Melvin's from towards the Worley place.

Alsey Atkinson. I am Melvin's wife. I saw Noah the night of the murder. I was in mothers house. He came. I saw him sitting there talking. He was there when I lay down and when I got up.

Cross-Examined: It was late at night and he left early next morning before sun-up.

Dr Kennedy. Maria Atkinson did tell me about Bob wanting her to swear he was at home.

Melvin Atkinson has a good character.

Cross-Examined: She said Bob told her that in a conversation on Tuesday night. I have done my level best to find out the murderers.

BAD FOR TRUTH AND HONESTY.

Wm F Atkinson: Maria's general character is bad for truth and stealing.

Moses Pearsall. I know the character of Maria Atkinson, it is bad, she is accused of telling lies. She is upperhanded (apprehended) in telling stories.

Ben Hirant. John Monroe came from there about an hour in the night and left between 9 and 10 o'clock. I had no time piece.

Cross-Examined: I had no clock. I mean an hour after sunset. I cant exactly say how long he stoyed there.

Wm F Atkinson: The character of Isaac is bad for lying and stealing.

This closes the evidence on both sides and the argument begins hot and heavy to-morrow. The counsel at present seem ready for a desperate battle, but it is for life. W. E. C.

FOURTH DAY—MORNING SESSION.

Court met at 9 A. M.

L. J. Moore, Esq., Solicitor, opened the case for the State.

"Gentlemen," said he, "an atrocious crime has been committed here in your midst." A poor but honest citizen went to his house to rest after the labors of the day. He was sitting before his own fire sill, and in the presence of his wife and three little children he was foully murdered. But be careful, do not let prejudice or anything else let you convict them, unless you are satisfied of their guilt. The motive was, that they did not wish a living witness in their midst to watch them, and also an old grudge of Cherry, and their desire to accomplish their unlawful designs upon Worley's poor wife.

We say Jerry Cox and the other three committed the crime.

It is not necessary for you to believe that Jerry Cox told you the whole truth in regard to the share he had in the murder. If you are satisfied that he has told the substantial truth, it is your duty to convict. You might even convict on his uncorroborated testimony. Mrs. Worley was a woman of strength, and there must have been more than one to accomplish their unlawful purpose. Remember, Jerry Cox, however much he may have varied in other facts and particulars, never charged any but those three men. They were friends; he had no motive to charge those particular men unless it were so. Why should he pick them out if they were innocent? When an alibi is attempted to be proved and it fails, it is a strong circumstance against a prisoner. Why was Robert Thompson worried, and why did Noah Cherry have his face down in his hands at Melvin Atkinson's? It was his conscience that troubled him. The villians took her life and left three prattling, lovely children there to perish in the cold for ought they cared. They try to make it doubtful by fixing themselves at a distance. He then proceeded to comment on the evidence and enlarge on the law in the case.

He commented at length on the blood-stained clothes of Noah Cherry, which were exhibited to the jury. His speech was an able effort in behalf of the State, and occupied about one hour.

J. D. Kerr, Esq., attorney for Harris Atkinson, followed Mr. Moore. He said: "Gentlemen of the Jury, I appear for one of the defendants, one who has been charged with one of the most atrocious crimes in the annals of history; I appear with my associate, without reward. You are not brought here to try these men upon the evidences of the press, or from public sentiment." He then referred to the motive, and denied that any evidence had been introduced showing the motive, except the declaration of counsel for the State. The testimony of Jerry Cox—the man who said "he was big at the head and swift at the foot," comes here a confessed villain. He has told you twenty-five different lies since placed upon the stand, and I will dwell upon them in the course of argument. He then referred in detail to the charges of lying in the evidence of Jerry Cox. He spoke of Jerry Cox's manner; he seems to shut his eyes and go right ahead; a mad bull in a China shop couldn't have been more active. So soon as he found out his name, he placed the name of Jerry Cox on the bosom of his shirt. Why was this? His entire statement is one tissue of lies from beginning to end. He, Jerry Cox, is the man that struck the fatal blows; he is the guilty party, and not the defendants at the bar. He then referred to the evidence of Jerry Cox, impeaching his testimony at every point. * * * * Gentlemen of the jury, I have no regrets. In defending one of the prisoners at the bar I perform the duty assigned to me by His Honor, the presiding Judge. He closed in a very able manner for the defendants. Lack of space prevents the publication of his speech in full. Mr. Kerr occupied one hour and thirty minutes, and was followed by

of New Berne, for the prosecution.

Mr Clarke began by referring to the great importance of the case, the duty of the jury in the premises, &c. * * * If we do not satisfy you beyond a shadow of a doubt that the defendants are guilty, then render a verdict in their favor. It was a foul murder. A peaceful and pleasant home was invaded, and the lives of husband and wife taken. What is that home now?

He quotes from Starke, on evidence, and gave a graphic history of the testimony.

Poor James Worley did not cry out, "Hell fire!" when the first blow was struck by the defendant Cherry. And while Noah Cherry, Robt. Thompson and Harriss Atkinson were committing the enormous crime of rape, in the presence of three helpless children, Appy Jane Worley, the victim, cried out, oh, Lordy! Death followed! Mr. Clarke continued in a very eloquent and able manner. We have full notes of his effort, but will refer to it on Sunday morning.

Mr. Clarke concluded at 12:30 P. M., when His Honor Judge Kerr ordered a recess until 2:30 P. M.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

George T. Wassom next addressed the jury on behalf of the prisoners. We say the majesty of the law has been trampled on. That a great crime has been committed in Wayne county; but we say that the prisoners are not the guilty ones. Jerry Cox has made up his lies as he went on. He first says he would not tell till he got his breakfast. Then he says Noah told him down at the new ground. Then he fabricates stories to the public press. He made them up to save his neck. He first says he met Noah at one place, in the second, at another place. Then he says they were an hour going ¾ of a mile. * *

Here our notes for the day close—in order to meet the mail going West.

At the hour of 4 p. m., Capt. Swift Galloway had just begun his argument for the Defence.

(Special by telegraph to the News.)

Capt. Galloway spoke four and half hours. It was a telling speech, certainly one of the ablest efforts of his life. He made a fine impression, and now great doubts are entertained as to the verdict. Sympathy for the prisoners is expressed. Capt. Galloway characterized Jerry Cox's corroborating testimony, as "Cox's straws," and enumerated them—first, the groans heard by Mr. Talton, the deaf man. It will be remembered that Talton saw Cherry about dusk, not far from Worley's home, and heard him groan three times.

"The murder blood" on the clothes, he characterized as false, &c. He then spoke in detail of Jerry Cox's testimony, always as false in every particular.

Captain Galloway's effort in behalf of the defendants is spoken of in terms of praise on all sides.

The question now is, what will the verdict be?

At 9 o'clock on Saturday morning (to-day), the Hon. Wm. T. Dortch will close the argument for the State.

DEMEANOR OF THE PRISONERS.

During the speeches in behalf of the defendants the prisoners manifested considerable emotion. Noah Cherry frequently wept. The recital of the horrid crime, and the efforts of the counsel in behalf of the prisoners, was listened to with deep interest by the large audience present. "What will the verdict be?"

HERTFORD COUNTY.

Murfreesboro and Winton---Chowan Institute---Ruins of Wesleyan Female College---Distinguished Sons of Hertford---A Patriotic Appeal.

(Correspondence of the News.)

MURFREESBORO, May 1, 1878.

I left your beautiful city of oaks several days since for Eastern Carolina, and here am I in the lovely and classic town of Murfreesboro, surrounded by Literature, Science, Music, Arts, elegant residences, blushing flowers and charming women! I had often heard of this place, famous for its colleges, its intelligence, hospitality and politeness of its people; and observation and appearance carry conviction to my mind, and true pleasure to my heart. I would be willing to live and die here; and I am sure he who visits it will leave it with a sigh, broken heart, and lingering look, as he remembers the beauties, the virtues and grace of its acomplished, fascinating and unsurpassed women.

CHOWAN INSTITUTE.

Through the civility of an friend. I visited the Chowan Institute, was introduced to Dr. McDowell, its venerable and learned President, and by him to his excellent lady, and gifted faculty. We were surrounded by numbers joyous, genial merry-making misses—all radiant with hope, brilliant in beauty, graceful in manner, exalted in mind, and pure in heart. I confess I feel mortified by not being introduced to these happy, laughing ladies, and especially to one, whose soft blue eyes completely charmed me; I thought surely she was the loveliest girl I ever saw! I will, however, forgive the Dr. his laws are strict, his rules must be obeyed—yet being young and handsome myself, also unmarried, I shall meet that charming, modest, blushing maiden at their next grand commencment; and if it should be agreeable, I shall certainly know her!! This institution is an honor to Carolina, a shining ornament to society, a blessing to women, and a great sustainer of virtue, piety and learning; it is liberally sustained, admirably managed, and gives to pupils a complete education, and crowns women with all that is essential to mind, to heart and to manner; which render her the just pride of stalwart man, and make her the jewel and glory of earth!

BLACKENED WALLS.

I have visited the sad remains of the Wesleyan Female College, and oh! how my heart did ache, as I gazed upon those blackened walls, and lonely standing columns that told of misfortune and gloom. I felt as though I were near some ancient Rome or Athens in ruins, or by the Nile, where still lie grand remains of once famed cities, temples, towers, columns, art. Alas! this noble structure is no more—its pupils, halls, music, science, arts, glory, grandeur—all gone! gone!! May we not hope that those insurance companies which have failed to come to its assistance, will show some mercy some mercy to suffering literature and science and nobly march to the rescue of this fallen College, to the cause of education, and to woman. I am sure they would, if they saw, as I have this day seen—a scene tender and touching, never to be forgotten!—for not far from where I stood, I beheld a bevy of sweet, sad unknown young misses (probably once students of that institution) with classsic tearful eyes, pale and sorrowful, lovingly gazing upon those dismal walls, and then looking fondly over that once green lawn, where flowers green, and fresh green grasses, but now death, desolation, waste and a desert seem to reign! But I am becoming sentimental: I here accidentally met with Rev. Mr. Starr, its noble President, who without an introduction genially approached, and kindly entered into a most agreeable conversation: it was the first time I had met with him, though often had I heard of him, as his reputation is wide for intellect, eloquence, piety and general excellence! I found him one of the most entertaining gentlemen I ever met—social, lively, witty, unaffected,—yet strong, solid, sensible; he seemed not for a moment to doubt of its being rebuilt, and with confidence and pluck, raising himself upward emphatically declared—"It will—it shall be resuscitated!" May his wishes be accomplished!

WINTON.

Last week was Superior Court in Winton, a pleasant place, about eleven miles from Murfreesboro. Through the kindness of the Capt. of the elegant steamer, Lota, I swiftly glided down the beautiful Chowan with its green shores, flowery hills and lovely scenery, and safely arrived at this famous county seat. Thanks to Capt. J. for many refined civilities: I shall never forget that truly beautiful lady passenger, who sang so magnificently—"Oh! the Highlands of Scotland." To that Capt. Fabb, faithful skillful, genial, kind and obliging as he is, I offer the best of my heart. I shall never forget his sparkling foaming gaseous soda-fountain!

Winton is a pleasant place, it has fine churches and some elegant private residences—its people polite, intelligent, generous and democratic. Judge Henry was here—people thought very highly of him. The Bar was represented! Alas! one looked in vain for a Moore, a Thomson, a Bragg, Cherry, Outlaw, Hardy and others—alas! they are gone, never to return, names illustrious and dear to North Carolina. We met with Chief Justice Smith, Judge Barnes, and Mr. Ward, the social, genial, talented and truly popular editor of the Enquirer, which paper meets with great favor, and is a complete success. Long may he continue to wield a glowing pen, never fail to uphold the great principles of true Democracy, which he, for the last few years, has so happily and ably done.

DISTINGUISHED NATIVES.

Judge Smith is almost idolized here. His superior intelligence, virtues and high character, render him the pride of his people, and an ornament to the State. His election is sure. Judge Barnes has a powerful influence at this Bar; and his legal learning and general attainments entitle him to the greatest honors his own State can bestow. There is one thing sure: Judge Barnes certainly loves fine horses and fine houses. This, too, is the home of that noble statesman, Yeates. He stands high in Congress, and the same here; the people of this District will never forget him. His prospects for re-nomination and election, are splendid, and with him as a leader, victory is certain; and a grand triumph awaits him and his noble party.

AN EXHORTATION.

Stand up, countrymen, of Carolina—look abroad. See the light breaking and the sun of victory coming! Onward, be courageous, fear not—trust in truth, God, and the Democratic party, and all is well!! Be united, be vigilant, be true! Let us march forward, with our banners flying, resolved that Democratic principles, which for more than eighty years led this land to honor and prosperity, shall rule this land again for eighty years to come, presenting to the world the sublime truth, that national and individual prosperity depend upon moral and intellectual culture! Let us declare that the great political lessons which our fathers taught us, shall not be forgotten—that we shall lift our poor, persecuted, chained, galled, bleeding South from the Republican mire and filth, and place her pure, though crippled feet, upon the Democratic rock of ages—that she shall arise, and yet be exalted, again returning to her former purity and renown in science, art, patriotism, virtue, peace, prosperity, power—becoming the pride of her people and the glory of the age!

Thank God, there is hope yet for her true sons. Yes, the time is coming when we shall reign and rule for the honor and glory of the whole American people! Countrymen of Carolina, do you wish to see your State and country happy and honored? If so, then awake, be united, march forward to meet every opposing power, and declare that truth and virtue shall be triumphant. Let us show to the world that vice cannot stand and truth is eternal!

We have nothing to fear; and if we be true to ourselves, we shall never fall! We have been treated as never a people have been before—we have been slandered as never a people have been before—we have been despoiled, and persecuted—yet remember, from the darkest cloud comes the most brilliant lightning, and from the hottest furnace the purest gold!

Onward! onward! onward!—there is no such word as fail!

May the blessings of Heaven rest upon us as a Government, as a people, as a State; and may we continue in peace and prosperity—shedding every honor and giving every comfort to millions of her now distressed children of every race and color—hated by none, and loved by all! OBSERVER.

ATLANTA GENERAL CONFERENCE.

SOUTHERN METHODIST CHURCH.

Daily Proceedings.

(Special Correspondence of the NEWS.)

ATLANTA, GA., May 2d, 1878.

SECOND DAY.

The Conference convened this morning at 9 o'clock, with Bishop Paine in the Chair.

The minutes of yesterday read and approved.

The minutes stated that at the afternoon session yesterday the standing committees were appointed, and it may be of interest to your readers to know what committees our delegates are on: Dr. Wilson is on the committee on Episcopacy; Dr. Burkhead on Itinerancy; Rev. Mr. Black on books and periodicals; Dr. Craven on Publishing House; Dr. Bobbitt on Revisals; Rev. Mr. Yates on Sunday-schools; Dr. Jones on Education; F. C. Robbins on Finance; W. F. Kornegay on Publishing House, and Dr. North on Missions.

TWO CONTESTED SEATS.

Nearly all the session this morning was consumed in discussing two contested seats. The seat of Rev. Mr. Morton, of the Denver Conference, was contested on the ground that he had transferred from the Denver Conference to the Louisville Conference since his election to the General Conference. The eligibility of Hon. John Hogan was questioned on the ground that he was a Local Preacher, and that his delegation being only two in number, was not large enough to admit one Local Preacher—the law allowing only one Local Preacher to every three lay delegates. The law says one-fourth of every delegation may be Local Preachers. Mr. Hogan claimed that at least half of him was entitled to a seat. These two cases had been referred to the committee on Credentials, and, after examination into the cases, the committee recommended that both these gentlemen be seated, and the discussion over the report of the committee was quite lively and spirited. A great many of the leading men participated in the discussion, among whom were Drs. McFerrin, Winfield, Evans, Bush, Finney, Lewis, Philpott, Abbey, Young, Lee, of Kentucky, and others. After a long, full and able discussion, both these gentlemen were seated.

ANOTHER CONTESTED CASE.

There is yet another contested case to come—that of L. D. Domeron, of St. Louis. The committee on Credentials are not yet ready to report on his case. The questions of law involved in this case have not yet been stated, nor the ground on which his eligibility will be questioned. A great deal of interest is manifested in the result of the contest.

THE N. C. DELEGATION.

Dr. W. H. Bobbitt, of North Carolina, preached last night in Evans' Chapel, one of the leading Methodist churches in this city. Dr. Wilson made a speech this morning in the General Conference, advocating a motion which he had made to enlarge the Publishing House Committee, by putting two men from each delegation on it, instead of one, as had heretofore been the rule. He carried this point. This is the only speech made yet by a North Carolinian. I am glad to say that the North Carolina Delegates are not disposed to talk much, for the reason that they are sensible men. The men who talk a great deal soon lose all influence with the Conference. I noticed that when Dr. Wilson spoke to-day, the members listened, as they always do when a man of influence speaks.

The proceedings to-day were principally concerning the two contested seats, hence our letter is necessarily brief. R.

Count Montcafrier, French Vice Consul at Baltimore, has received instructions from M. Rolland, the French Director General of Finance, to make official announcement that on June 4, 1878, the French Regie will contract for 2,400,000 kilogrammes of Maryland tobacco.

In a nursery wherein all is life and laugh instead of crying and freeting, there is sure to be found Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup. Price 25 cents per bottle.

DR. W. E. SCOTT, Present of the College of Physicians, Montreal, writes: "I have recommended Colden's Liebig's Liquid Extract of Beef and Tonic Invigorator as the best preparation used for Debility, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Fever, Ague and Loss of Appetite." Williams & Haywood, Agents. ap 23-2w

Pledging Candidates.

Upon this subject we find the following excellent observations in the Pee Dee Herald:

A great out-cry is being made by certain parties about the 'pledge' to be demanded of candidates for Legislative honors (?) in regard to their votes in caucus for the Senatorial nomination next winter.

This complaint, in every instance, which has come under our observation, comes from men whose proclivities and preferences are pretty well defined and known; and they bear the appearance—however covered with sophistry and 'blarney,' of a direct attempt to stifle and crush out public opinion.

Or in other words, a new political offense has been discovered in North Carolina. It is that of the people of a county Convention assembled, expressing their preference for United States Senator. Some novel features distinguish this offence from all others of like kind and character. It is admitted to be perfectly right for the people to express their preference for every officer in the government, from President of the United States down to township constable, and even to instruct their delegates in the premises, save and except only the office of the United States Senator. In the favored cases, the people having the right to ratify or reject the choice of their delegates, it is permissible to instruct them; in the latter case, as the choice of the delegates is final, and the people can't help themselves, whether pleased or not, it is unlawful for them to instruct before hand! Therefore the people should have no say so in the matter! This unanswerable logic naturally breeds the conclusion which is drawn by its advocates, that the defeat of the Democratic party in 1872 in the selection of Senator, was the result of this "bad practice" of the pledging their members beforehand!

There are a few people with recollection sufficient to enable them to remember the fact, that not a single candidate for the Legislature in North Carolina in 1872 was pledged to vote for any particular man for Senator, further than he may have expressed his own preference on the stump, and this was wrong, of course; for the people having no right to instruct their delegates, the delegates had no right whatever to let their constituents have the least inkling of what they intended to do. And there are even some people so absurd as to believe that if the constituents of the sixteen Democrats who refused to abide by the decision of the other eighty-four, had been guilty of the 'bad practice' of instructing their members, the integrity of the party would have been preserved, the popular will respected, and the serenade of the negroes and revenue officers, headed by Tim Lee, which honored that radical triumph, would have been stifled in an untimely birth.

The advocates of this new system of political ethics happen, nearly all of them, to have expressed a preference in favor of a gentleman for Senator in whose behalf no county has yet instructed its delegates, thereby proclaiming that they have the exclusive right to express a preference. They very much fear independent candidates and a bolt in the party; and they think it very bad policy on the part of the friends of the gentleman who has received this mark of public favor. All of which is a little strange; for it would seem that if we really deprecated bolts we would not advocate bolters, and that if our enemy was making a false move we should encourage him in it and not try to frighten him off.

But the art of running with the hare and holding with the hounds, or of reaping all the rewards of party organization and setting the wish of that party at defiance, is rather new to us; and it is quite possible we may not have attained the 'true inwardness' of it.

THE Richmond Whig has something to say of North Carolina, in its last issue. It expects an animated canvass for the United States Senatorship, and a decisive victory for one or the other of the two distinguished gentlemen whose names are most prominently connected with the approaching contest. It goes on to say:

"As far as we can judge from the tone of the press, the preponderance of public opinion is very decidedly on the side of Governor Vance. He was once elected, and refused his seat by a Radical Senate; and there seems to be a wide-spread and deep conviction, that he was not fairly dealt with at the last election. Apart from this, his pre-eminent ability is indisputable; and his devotion to his State is on a par with his capacity to serve her. His reputation is not confined to his Commonwealth, but is commensurate with the Union; and his election would be hailed with joy and pride by the friends of free government all over the land." The sentiments here expressed so tersely and aptly will find an echo in every part of North Carolina. Twice have the Democrats of this State tried to place Gov. VANCE in the United States Senate; and twice have they been defeated in their efforts. The first time by the National Republican Party, and the second time by the Republican party of North Carolina, co-operating with a handful of bolters. Next winter the Democratic party of North Carolina will try, for the third time, to place the man of its choice in the seat now occupied by Senator MERRIMON; and we tell our friends of the Whig that there will be no failure this time. The Democratic party of North Carolina is at length grown so strong that it can win the victory in any contest with its political adversary, and defy the treasonable efforts of disorganizers, independents, and bolters.

THE Worley murder case closes today, with what results will be ascertained by a reference to to-morrow morning's paper. The case has been ably conducted on the part of both the prosecution and the defence. We have laid the entire evidence, with some unimportant and uninteresting exceptions, before our readers. They have probably arrived at the same conclusion with the jury—a conclusion expressed by the NEWS a few days after the commission of the crime. The prisoners have had a fair trial; and none can say that the verdict of the jury will not be in accordance with the facts, and absolutely righteous. We trust that the lawless element of the negro population of Wayne, as well as that of other counties, will take warning by the result of this trial, and no more stain the annals of the Courts with deeds of blood and violence. The vengeance of the Law is sure and swift.

THE outlook is growing gloomy for the Russians. The Turks, having recovered somewhat from their losses and the demoralization consequent on the unhappy termination of the late war, are re-assuming an attitude of defiance to Russia. The Sultan's army is so strengthened and so admirably entrenched around Constantinople that it is able to resist Russian encroachment, until at least the English could come to the rescue. Should the pending state of uncertainty culminate in an alliance offensive and defensive between England and Turkey, and Austria should either join hands with them or stand aloof, it would be with the very utmost difficulty that Russia could maintain her conquests. It is needless, however, to discuss results. We are still confronted by the question of peace or war, with all the indications pointing directly to the latter.

STEPHEN MCCORKLE, the noted negro "apostle of the whipping-post," as he calls himself, writes us to say that he will run for the Legislature in McDowell county, (and be beaten of course), and that friends of the cause will be run in nearly every county in the State. He asserts "that all patriotic men who desire to see the Old North State prosper and blossom as the rose will support the noble cause of returning to the whipping-post, which is no more nor less than the law of God as taught and practiced by Moses, and even by us in our days of prosperity." The "apostle" has called a Convention in Charlotte on the 16th of September next. He proposes to speak in Asheville on the 8th inst., and in Salisbury on the 30th. He thinks it "so much better to take 39 and go, for frivolous crimes." Level-headed darkey.

THE Richmond (Va.) Dispatch says that of all the follies that ever entered the brain of man, the most monstrous and unreasonable is that of exploiting communism in this land of freedom, abundance, and immeasurable undeveloped wealth. But the boldness of these people assures us that they only hasten their own destruction.

The Granville County Offices.

Correspondence of the News.

OXFORD, N. C., May 3, 1878.

The terrible struggle for the offices of Sheriff and County Treasurer, between the two wings of the Radical party, has at last terminated, and the Moore faction is triumphant. Judge Seymour decides that Manly B. Jones is Treasurer, and Benj. F. Bullock is Sheriff.

The legal fight between these parties has been fierce at every step, and great legal research and acumen have been displayed on both sides. Two able lawyers from your city, the Hons. T. C. Fuller and J. B. Batchelor, were on opposite sides in the great legal battle, and while Mr. Fuller represented the successful parties, Mr. Batchelor displayed equal ability in working for the interest of his clients, and added to his already high reputation here as one of the first lawyers in North Carolina.

SAVE YOUR HAIR. TO LEARN HOW TO DO IT READ AND HEED WHAT FOLLOWS.

SAVE YOUR HAIR.—The laws of Health and Longevity demand it, the customs of social life require it. The matter is of great importance in every way.

BEAUTIFY YOUR HAIR.—It is the surpassing crown of glory, and for the loss of it there is no compensation.

CULTIVATE YOUR HAIR.—For by no other means can it be saved and beautified.

LYON'S

KATHAIRON,

discovered thirty-five years ago by Prof. Lyon, of Yale, is the most perfect preparation in the world for preserving and beautifying the hair.

BESIDES BEING THE BEST HAIR DRESSING EVER PRODUCED, LYON'S KATHAIRON WILL POSITIVELY PREVENT GRAYNESS, AND WILL RESTORE NEW HAIR TO BALD HEADS, if the roots and follicles are not destroyed.

It actually performs these seeming miracles of which the following is

A FAIR SPECIMEN.

I had been entirely bald for several years constitutional, I suppose. I used a few bottles of Kathairon, and to my great surprise, I have a thick growth of young hair.

COL. JOHN L. DORRANCE, U. S. A.

In every important respect the Kathairon is absolutely incomparable. It is unequaled.

1. To Cure Baldness.
2. To Restore Gray Hair
3. To Remove Dandruff.
4. To Dress and Beautify the Hair.

BEAR IN MIND.—The sticky paste of sulphur and sugar-of-lead, to paint and daub the hair, and paralyze the brain. It is a pure and limpid vegetable lotion, intended to restore them by natural growth and reinvigoration. Its splendidly perfumed, and the most delightful toilet dressing known. No lady's or gentleman's toilet outfit is complete without Lyon's Kathairon.

The Graveless Dead.

A strange thing for my heart to crave,
And yet the boon I covet most—
The presence of a new-made grave
To prove my treasure really lost.
For I could look above the sod
That lay above his pulseless breast,
And sing my gratitude to God
That he had surely reached his rest.
But no such shrine is granted me
Where grief her healing tears might shed;
Mine naught but black uncertainty
Whether he liveth or is dead.

Out of the door-way of our home,
Out from its peace and love and light,
Into the spectral rain and gloom,
My husband stept into the night,
And since has never blest my sight—
Tho' I have watched for him to come
Till fields are green which then were white.
I know he was not thus to stay—
His heart so true was wholly mine—
And had he meant but brief delay
Word, look or token had shown its sign,
But no farewell was given to me
As into murky night he stept,
Whose darkness, like death's mystery,
Hath close the fearful secret kept.

Vain all my patience, vain my tears,
Vain all my quest to find it out;
Gaining no answer to its prayers,
My heart is dying of its doubt!
If God would tell me he is dead,
And tell me nothing else beside,
I could lift up my weary head
And ask not when or how he died;
But now my heart-strings suffer strain
Beyond their mortal power to bear;
For hope intensifies my pain!
By trying to dissuade despair!

All day along the street I watch
Each gray hair'd man that comes towards me,
All night I listen for the latch
To sound, and tell me it is he!
I turn my Bible's page over,
I search in vain each well-worn leaf,
Comfort and pledge, so rich of yore,
Seem valueless to meet this grief.
And so a shadow worse than death
Veils all the heavens above my head,
Blinding the vision of my faith
Till even God Himself seems dead!

GENERAL NOTES.

England has eight newpapers founded over a century ago.

The Russians declare that the sun never sets on British beats.

Count Von Moltke's first military distinction was won in the service of the Sultan.

Josh Billings is said to have made more money than almost any American author.

A pilgrimage to Rome is to be undertaken from Germany, Bohemia, Austria, and Hungary.

An Indian school maintained in Michigan, near Au Sable, is reported to be very successful.

The United States building at the Paris Exposition is represented to be an architectural monstrosity on a small scale:

"The prisoner at the bar seems to have a very smooth face," said a spectator to the jailor, "he was ironed just before he was brought in."

An excellent plan for the instruction of inexperienced teachers is about to be carried out in San Francisco. This is their required attendance upon lectures on teaching, to be given by competent persons.

The egg business of this country has risen to an importance which few comprehended. The aggregate transactions in New York city alone is about $8,000,000 per annum, and in the United States $18,000,000.

Three earthquake shocks occurred on the Yellowstone river, California, accompanied with a stifling smell of sulphur, and the earth gaped open for a distance of 1,500 feet, revealing a vein of coal five feet wide.

M. Asseline, the radical journalist who died suddenly in Paris the other day, was a member of the Mutual Autopsy society, and his death was the first among the members of that somewhat ghoulish organization. He was duly dissected.

Boston law says that a full loaf of bread shall weigh two pounds, and smaller loaves shall be either three-quarters, half or one quarter of the full loaves in weight, each size to be marked for precisely what it is. Bakers are being prosecuted for disregarding these regulations.

On Tuesday a novel undertaking in pedestrianism begun at Toronto, Canada, by an amateur athlete named James Duff Henderson. He proposes to walk a distance equal to the earth's circumference, and to finish his task within two years, choosing the localities in which to walk and resting where he pleases. He is to receive $50 a month and expenses, and if he succeeds he is to have $10,000. To accomplish his task by the 1st of May, 1880, he will be obliged to walk forty miles a day on an average.

A certain Bishop in the House of Lords rose to speak, and announced that he should divide what he had to say into twelve parts, when the Duke of Wharton interrupted him, and begged he might be indulged for a few minutes, as he had a story to tell which he could only introduce at that moment. A drunken fellow was passing by St. Paul's at night, and heard the clock slowly chiming twelve. He counted the strokes, and when it had finished looked toward the clock and said, "Damn you! why couldn't you give us all that at once?" There was an end of the Bishop's story,

During their stay at San Stefano General and Madame Ignatieff were quartered on a German family. On their departure Madame presented the young lady of the house with a bouquet while her diplomatic spouse added this sage bit of advice: "If you are wise Mademoiselle, you will have the room in which the peace was signed photographed, and sent to Europe for sale. You will realize in this way a considerable fortune; and although a pretty face has no doubt great value in the matrimonial market, it is not the less attractive when backed up by golden charms."

A Montreal detective has arrested two "necromancers," Paul Boone and Jean Sudan, under very singular circumstances. He found them at midnight in a gentleman's orchard, laden down with beads and crosses, walking round and round a tree, the leader reading spells from an ancient Latin book by the light of a taper, while the other, holding the leader's coat-tail with one hand, with the other cut and slashed at imaginary demons with a sword. At last they fell upon their knees and, beating their breasts, called on Satan to deliver up the gold. When they were brought before the Police Justice it was found that they had with them hammers and cold-chisels wherewith to break open the iron casket of gold they were to receive from the guardian demons at 12:30 o'clock on Friday night, and pleaded piteously to be released in time to go through the final conjurations. They were released, but warned not to trespass on the premises again.

The universal satisfaction that it has given all who have used it, the largely increased sales every year and the continued use by parties who bought it when first introduced, is the strongest evidence of its adaptability to our soil, and of its being a paying fertilizer.

The County Jail.

There are at present twenty-nine prisoners confined in our jail. Of these four are white and twenty-five colored. Five are women. Nearly all are in for either larceny or burglary. Our next Criminal Court will have work cut out ready for its attention.

Special Car.

On the 7th inst., there will be an excursion to Goldsboro from this city, given by the two companies of colored troops here. At Goldsboro there will be a grand parade of the colored troops of the State. For the convenience of any white persons, who may wish to go to see the affair, a first class special car will be put on.

Escape of a Convict.

Yesterday afternoon, as Sheriff Taylor, of Surry county, was bringing a prisoner on to the Penitentiary, the convict jumped from the train, though hand-cuffed, when about five miles from the city. He immediately took to the woods. The train was stopped, and the Sheriff rushed in pursuit of his man, but up to last accounts had not effected a re-capture.

Mayor's Court.

Several cases were on the docket yesterday. Charity Bobbitt and Tibby Bobbitt, both colored, had their case continued until to-day.

Thurston Ray, for disorderly conduct, was sent to the guard house for 12 hours. Billy Patterson, (by the way, a well known character,) was found guilty of the same offence and was fined $5 and costs.

Accident.

Mr. J. M. Betts, one of our prominent building contractors, is conducting the work on a house for Mr. Goodwin, near the central depot. Yesterday afternoon he was standing on a scaffolding that ran around the building, giving directions &c. While walking around, the scaffolding suddenly gave way and he was precipitated to the ground. Fortunately he sustained no serious injuries, only a few bruises.

A Cotton Compress for Charlotte.

Yesterday a cotton compress, occupying nineteen freight cars of the Seaboard Air Line, and transferred from Portsmouth to Charlotte by the Virginia Compress Company, passed through on the Raleigh and Augusta Air Line. Its original cost was $45,000, and it has a capacity for compressing five hundred bales in twenty-four hours.

Governor, Vance and party did not reach Charlotte on their return from their Western trip, and so failed to arrive last night, as expected.

Mr. F. A. McGarrahan, of St. Louis, Mo., is at the Yarbrough.

Board of Aldermen.

A meeting of the Board was held last evening.

The report of the Street Commissioner of work done in April was read and adopted.

The Commissioner of the Sinking Fund, Col. W. E. Anderson, made his report. It was resolved that the certificates of indebtedness, principal and interest held by the Commissioner of the Sinking Fund, be funded in the bonds of the city.

The Finance Committee were appointed to examine, monthly, the accounts of the Commissioner of the Sinking Fund, and to look into the character of the securieties, &c. The Commissioner was also instructed to furnish an itemized statement of the transactions of his office up to the first of May, in each year.

A committee was also appointed to examine into the condition of the Rex Hospital, and report the result. They were authorized to employ an expert. The committee consists of L. H. Adams, Thomas D. Hogg and Thomas H. Briggs.

The city Weighmaster made a report for April.

It was resolved that the polling places heretofore designated by the Mayor, be declared the proper ones, except that Handy Lockhart's shop was designated as the place for the Second Ward.

Several licenses were granted for the sale of liquor.

A petition was read from the residents of Hargett Street, asking that the sale of spirituous liquors by retail be not permitted on that street. The petition was laid on the takle.

The answers from the property owners on the streets proposed to be opened, in response to a circular letter, were read by the Clerk. Some parties will take the amount of assessments, others will not agree to do so. The communications were laid on the table for action by the new Board.

The Board adjourned until Tuesday evening.

Work Suspended.

Our people will regret to hear that work on the new court house and post-office has been suspended. The cause of this is the total expenditure of the appropriation for the the construction of the building. It is always the custom of the government to cease operations as soon as appropriations are exhausted. The workmen were paid up to the 30th ult., and since that time have done no work. They have no idea when work will again begin. It is peculiarly unfortunate that such work should stop just now, when the building is so nearly completed, and steps should be taken to continue operations.

We had a conversation with one of the officials in charge, who informed us that the appropriation is so nearly exhausted that there is no money left save sufficient to pay the watchman a half a month's wages. He said that Congress would no doubt at once make the necessary appropriation, as but a small sum is now required to complete the building. That the estimates of the requisite amount would be soon forwarded, and he expects work will be resumed in a few weeks.

A Thoughtful House-Keeper.

A lady of our city, who not long since entered the matrimonial state, has recently endeavored to learn something of that most soul-wearing thing known as house-keeping. So she has been carefully looking out for all possible information on subjects connected with what she thinks is woman's mission in life. The only live stock owned by this lady is a hen. This fowl not long since became the mother of a brood. These are domiciled in a large coop in the yard. A day or two ago the young house-keeper went to her "hubby," and begged him to get her a piece of carpeting to put under the dear little chickens, so they would not take cold! Who will now dare say women are not thoughtful.

Memorial Day.

The preparations for the celebration of the 10th of May are proceeding. The music will be furnished by a choir of about fifteen or twenty voices. These are now practising frequently and will doubtless render some exceedingly fine music.

The cemetery will present a better appearance than ever before, the new stone head-stones having been placed in position.

The programme of arrangements will be published next week, by the chief marshal. It is hoped the day will be observed generally and that the stores will be closed, as in other places.

Horse Thief Nabbed.

Some time since a horse was stolen from Mr. G. W. Huntly, of Wadesboro, Anson county. A description of the suspected party was published in the papers, On Tuesday last F. C. Weaver, a man answering the description of the thief, was arrested by a Deputy Sheriff of Greene county, at Snow Hill. He was taken to Goldsboro and there delivered to the owner of the stolen horse who was on the look-out for him. Yesterday he was brought up to our city, ironed, and lodged in the guard house. He will be taken to Wadesboro, via Hamlet to-day, leaving at 6 o'clock a. m. He protests that he is innocent, but is unusually reticent.

The State University.

The catalogue of this institution, for 1877-'78, has been issued. The total number of students is placed at 160. The pamphlet contains full information on every subject connected with the University, the courses of study, etc., etc. A statement of the operations of the Normal School is given. The University has been the recipient of some valuable donations of apparatus, books, &c., while the two Literary Societies have been presented with many portraits, valuable works, etc.

The catalogue is from the steam presses of W. T. Blackwell & Co., of Durham, and is well printed.

Another Murder in Wayne.

On the 4th of October, 1877, an affray occurred in the city of Goldsboro, between a man named Johnson and Alf. Langston. Langston struck Johnson on the head, inflicting a serious wound, from which Johnston has suffered since, and died on Thursday afternoon. The Coroner's inquest, held yesterday, concluded that Johnston came to his death from a blow inflicted by Langston on the date above named. Langston is now in jail at Goldsboro.

Something of Interest to the Farmers.

We notice among those dealing in Agricultural Implements, Mr. W. A Myatt, of this city, has a very large stock of plows and points of all descriptions, which he says are going more rapidly this season than ever before. This speaks well for the farming interest. He makes a specialty of the Wilson Cotton Plow, and offers the points cheaper than ever sold before. Farmers will do well to see him when in need of such things. *

Resumed Specie Payments.

This firm for the past 8 or 10 months has paid their employees regularly in silver, and for the future express their intentions of paying only in gold. By just such strides, this enterprising firm always leads the van, and are popular with the public, as enterprising and liberal

Blue Glass.

Gen. Pleasanton, of blue-glass fame, argues that because in his hot house plants grow stronger and more rapidly under blue glass, the same covering is equally good for animal life, and capable of curing disease. If afflicted, hang no hope upon so doubtful a theory and remedy, but rather trust some thoroughly tested agent. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which is successful above all other remedies yet known, in healing affections of the throat, lungs and blood, works in perfect harmony with nature's laws. If the skin be sallow, with blotches and eruptions, or if there be headache, consumption, "biliousness," general and nervous debility, the Golden Medical Discovery and Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets will, if used according to directions, effect a perfect cure.

ALEXANDRIA, Rapides Parish, La.
DR. R. V. PIERCE:
Dear Sir:—Six bottles of your Golden Medical Discovery has cured me of a hacking cough that I have suffered with for nearly four years. I take pleasure in recommending it to the world.

Yours, &c.,

Church Music.

The finest music provided by any church in the country is to be heard on Sundays and holidays at St. Francis Xaviers' in New York. Its organ and its choir are alike famous, and its services are crowded by both the religious and the critical. The credit of this superb preeminence belongs to the organist, Professor Wm Berge, music doctor, who but a little while ago, ruptured an artery in his arm and had to abandon his profession until cured by Giles' Liniment Iodide Ammonia.

What a Tottering Fabric

Is a system depleted of vitality and irregular in its functions. It is only judicious and prompt medication which can save it from a speedy and total collapse. The tonic and regulating properties of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters particularly adapt that benign medicine to revive physical vigor and reform those bodily irregularities which are a barrier to its permanent restoration. Biliousness and constipation are totally overcome by it, and the digestive activity and thorough assimilation which it promotes have the effect of increasing the vivifying and nourishing qualities of the blood. The Bitters are also an excellent detergent of the vital current, since they communicate a healthy stimulus to the bladder and kidneys, which are the most important channels for the escape of its impurities. Pure, agreeable, and of botanic origin, thorough and prompt, but never violent in its action, the reasons for the transcendent popularity of this medicine are both cogent and appreciable. ap 29 6t

DRY GOODS.

Good Morning.

The latest news by Telephone, the great American through line, no time to stop at way stations.

New Goods Received at

GREECH'S

BY EVERY TRAIN.

I am now receiving my Spring Stock bought within the last ten days in a depressed market after the rush of business was over and goods had fallen. In fact I bought them at hard pan and panic prices, and can safely say that never in the history of the dry goods business have I been better prepared to sell good so uniformly cheap. And so as to give my customers a bird's eye view, I will quote a few prices:

50,000 Yards
NEW AND HANDSOME
SPRING PRINTS,
From 5 to 7 cents.

10,000 Yards New and handsome
PRINTED UNION LAWNS,
At 10 cents, worth 15 cents;

10,000 YARDS PRINTED CORDED LAWNS, at 10 cents, cheap at 15 cents;

5,000 yards Solid French Grenadine at 7¼ cents, cost 20 cents to import;

5,000 yards Poplin Lustres, new and handsome shades, at 5 cents, worth 25 cents.

New and handsome styles of finer Dress Goods at correspondingly low prices. Three yards White Corded Pique for 30 cents, and one yard thrown in extra; 3 pair White Hose for 25 cents, and one pair thrown in extra; Ladies Embroidered Collars at 5 cents each, ought to bring 15 cents; plain Collars, 3 for 10 cents, and one thrown in extra; Ladies Cloth Gaiters, to arrive in a few days, at 50 cents. These prices ought to unwrap the the string from around the panic stricken purses, and come to Greech's.
